YMCA Philosophy

The primary purpose of the YMCA is to promote the spiritual, mental and physical well-being of all persons. Programs in the YMCA have never been an end in itself, but rather a vehicle for achieving a much more global purpose: CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT.

Development Program challenges staff, volunteers, members and participants to accept and demonstrate positive values. Whatever the condition of one's character, there is always potential to improve in both attitude and action. Character Development is a way for the YMCA to put its mission statement into actions: "putting Christian principles into practice through programs that promote the health of spirit, mind and body for the youth and families of our community." Challenging children and adults to accept and demonstrate positive values is as effective as treating problems. Character Development differentiates us from organizations that exist only to provide camping, childcare, fitness or sports business.

Our programs are only conduits of our mission;
CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT IS OUR PRODUCT.

I agree to the above philosophy:
